Bursting of the Boiler of the "Tigress"—Great Loss of Life—Shocking Details

St. Johns, April 13.—The Captain of the whaling steamer Panther gives the following account of his meeting with the Tigress on Friday the 3d inst. The Panther was in longitude 50 deg 22 min north on her return to St. Johns she reports a steamer apparently moving only under sail, with flags at half mast. Went on board when I discovered her to be the steamer Tigress. The captain and chief officers were on deck. I was informed that on Thursday April 2d at 4 P M the vessel was shaken all over by a terrific explosion of her boiler. It created great terror and confusion and the steam completely enveloped every compartment below. In consequence all the steamer men had been destroyed and they had been under sail against head wind twenty four hours. When I reached the deck of the Tigress a number of men were nailing together rough pine wood boxes for putting the bodies of the unfortunate men who had been killed by the accident. On the day of the explosion the weather was dreadfully cold with a stiff breeze blowing and very heavy squalls. A number of men had gone below after watch and had turned in on top of the boiler for the sake of warmth. Nineteen of the crew were reposing away when the crash came and some of them were literally scattered beyond recognition. The engineers on duty at the time were both killed

Failure of the Peace Commissioners.

CHEYENNE, April 12.—The Cheyenne Leader has the following from its correspondent at Red Cloud agency dated April 7th

The United States Commissioners returned from Spotted Tail to-day, having accomplished absolutely nothing. Their pow wowing at the Agency has further complicated matters between the Government and the Indians. The Indians at Spotted Tail refuse absolutely to have their agency removed. They say they are tired of seeing Commissioners and have invited the present delegation to leave in language more forcible than polite. It is understood that the Commissioners will proceed East at once and ask for a strong military escort and return within a month and move the agency. The visit of the Commissioners has only served to destroy the moral effect produced by the troops. The Indians who are keen observers have noticed that there is a hitch somewhere in the working of things to them. They expect one thing from the military and are led to believe something else from the Commissioners. Spotted Tail accused the Commissioners in council of seeking to stir up strife between his people and the northern Indians and, in the language of the interpreter, he wanted them to dry up. He says he has been moved around and pestered so much by these "flies" from the Great Father that he wants his words written down this time to show to them. Then who come begging around here after he won't talk to them any more. No doubt Spotted Tail and Red Cloud are acting in accord. The crowd at the largest council after a few words spoken in an excited manner waved his hand to his people and they all left. The same scene occurred at Red Cloud. A show of counting Indians has been made here that is the Agent called in the head men and took their word for the number they ... so far six thousand have been registered. There are probably four thousand or less. Several ... have refused to either be counted or change ... number for which they have heretofore drawn rations. Some of them after they had handed in ... came next day and claimed that they had forgotten their women and children and wanted to ... them. The Peace Commissioners arrived at Cheyenne yesterday

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Your paper of this date contains an editorial in reference to a clergyman of the English Church, concerning whom the Eastern papers have been manufacturing a sensation. I think you would hardly have written this article had you known all the facts of the case. They are as follows. Some time since a person calling himself the Rev Dr Porteus came to New York claiming to be a clergyman of the English Church and presenting his credentials papers to Bishops Potter and Littlejohn was licensed to preach in their respective dioceses. The license was given in the spirit of that charity which thinketh no evil, but with some hesitation as there were no testimonials of character subsequent to the date of the letters of ordination. Some time afterwards both of these Bishops withdrew their license to Dr Porteus. Bishop Littlejohn stating at the time that the ground of his action was such as when known would amply satisfy all reasonable people within or without the Church

With their usual impatience and desire for a sensation the papers religious and secular took up the matter and raised the old cry of tyranny oppression bigotry etc, against these Bishops. Dr Porteus was welcomed to pulpits outside of the Episcopal Church his public lectures drew large and enthusiastic audiences, the organization of an 'Independent Episcopal Congregation' was attempted the religious papers all over the country including the Pacific Christian Advocate, of Portland, Oregon enlarged upon the enormity of the case, a first class sensation was raised and Bishops Potter and Littlejohn were considered perfectly humiliated. Now however comes the sequel—as most sensible people who knew anything of the parties were confident it would come in time. The foreign mail brought to this country a few weeks ago a copy of the Greenock Gazette published on the Clyde which furnished the following information relative to Dr Porteus. It states that this gentleman was formerly a temperance lecturer in Ayrshire, then the pastor of a small Baptist congregation at Irvine then a Swedenborgian minister and finally a clergyman of the Church of England. It further states that he was compelled to leave Irvine because it was proved that he assumed an academic title to which he had no claim. It was also proved that in a controversy with a Scotch clergyman at Glasgow he was in the habit of using theological ... which he did not produce—in other words plagiarizing. This paper goes on to speak of him in terms far from complimentary and expresses surprise that Americans should be so slow to learn an old lesson with regard to humbugs and impostors.

As you have given publicity to the first version of this story I suppose you will not hesitate to give equal publicity to its sequel which comes to me from what I can but consider the best authority. Would it not be well for all papers—secular and religious—to exercise a little more caution in publishing articles that reflect upon the wisdom and discretion of men who by blameless lives and long years of fidelity to the most sacred trusts have won the esteem and confidence of a large body of Christian people. Would it not ... be better ... to ... instead of ... widespread all these ... rumors invented by the professional gossips of the day? Allow me to ... further in regard to what you say about a Clergyman preaching or lecturing in the pulpits of churches not consecrated according to the prayer book. There is not a single line or letter in all the canons of the Episcopal Church against any ... practice and such a case of discipline that is, for preaching in churches not consecrated according to the prayer book—was never heard of and I think I may add never will be.

Very truly yours, L. W. M.

THE MODOCS

A TRIP TO THE ... THEIR ... HOME ... SCAR FACED CHARLEY ... BOGUS CHARLEY ... SHACKNASTY JIM ... FAITHFUL WILLIAM AND ... DR TOM

A correspondent of the St Louis Dispatch has recently visited the Modocs in their new home four miles from the village of Seneca in the Quapaw Indian Territory and thus writes of them:

After an hour's drive across prairie and through woods the headquarters of the Quapaw Agency, consisting of a comfortable house and outbuildings is reached. Here H W Jones the agent and family reside. His son Finsley is sub agent and has special charge of the Modocs who are encamped about five hundred yards east of the agency. The entire tribe with the exception of Scarfaced Charley and Bogus Charley reside in the extensive pine building which was built for them and is known as the barracks. The red skins mentioned by view of their official titles occupy separate tents with their wives and children

SCAR FACED CHARLEY

The head chief received the party extending his hand to each one in person and evincing an apparent desire to be friendly. He is a muscular specimen of his race low of stature and firmly built. A prominent aquiline nose small glittering eyes, and a huge scar extending from the right ear to the lip giving him a somewhat repulsive appearance that dies away the moment the man speaks as like the great Sioux of Indiana Scar face has a penchant for smiling

BOGUS CHARLEY

Just as the visitors had concluded their hand shaking with the head chief, a young warrior straight as an arrow and with very intelligent features emerged from one of the tents and was introduced as Bogus Charley, second chief of the tribe. Bogus is about thirty years of age and by all odds the finest looking man in camp. He is universally liked by residents in the vicinity prides himself on his mordarity and likes it to be known that he has never become acquainted with the taste of whisky

Bogus was always the strong supporter of a peace policy with the whites and did all he could to prevent and avert the Modoc war. He was overruled by the elder chiefs however and went into the fight with greater vim than any of them

STEAMBOAT FRANK

The third chief next to Bogus Charley is the best looking specimen of his tribe and is the only one of the young warriors having any pretensions towards a moustache. He is aged about twenty five and in addition to speaking English quite passably is learning to read

SHACKNASTY JIM,

Or more properly speaking Sognostie Jim fourth chief is the great Mormon of the party as he lays claim to three wives. Sognostie can also speak the English language tolerably well, and appears to be more at his ease in the presence of strangers than any of the others

One of the party having expressed a desire to witness the skill of the Modocs with bow and arrow Scar face issued some orders in his native tongue and in less than a minute thirty bucks appeared upon the scene, armed with bows and arrows, and dressed in the most fantastic garbs imaginable

QUEER GARBS

Faithful William who is said to have informed General Canby that he would be murdered if he attended the fatal conference was attired in buckskin leggings and a lady's balmoral skirt, of which he was evidently very proud. Schonchin Pete a son of one of the executed men had nothing on but a pair of army pants. Hooka Jim the most muscular and athletic member of the tribe luxuriated in an army hat a bead necklace and undershirt and buck unmentionables. This individual was implicated more than any one in being in the murder of Canby. Curly haired Doctor the big medicine man of the tribe, was habited in an extraordinary ludicrous manner and was too dignified to take part in the sport. Buckskin Doctor second medicine man preferred shooting to smoking and took a hand in. Mose Little, Jerry a hunchback, Itka Miller Charley and Chapalena are names borne by a few of the remaining archers

WILD ARCHERS

Everything being ready for a trial of skill, a twig was split and stuck in the ground with a nickel on top. At a distance of twenty five yards one of the many youngsters would send the five cents flying and rush to find it. Each successful shot was hailed with exultant shouts and the best of good feeling prevailed among the contestants. The shooting was extraordinary and the swiftness with which the arrows are sent can be judged when it is stated that at a distance of twenty feet a young buck discharged a plain wooden shaft at a pine board an inch thick and made the point show on the other side

A GAME OF BALL

Tiring of this sport a game of ball was suggested and Faithful Bill Itka Hooka Jim Chapalena a nephew of Bogus Charley's were selected as the contestants—the two former opposed to the latter. The game is almost similar to Lacrosse except that it is played with the feet. A yarn sphere about the size of a base ball is used and the object is to kick it through posts about four feet apart and located about seventy-five yards opposite each other. The ball is placed between two of the players and the object is to kick it through the enemy's goal. After a lively contest of half an hour's duration William and Itka proved victorious to the delight of the chiefs and squaws who were looking on with great interest

THE CAMP

The visitors next made a tour of the camp which presented a very neat and tidy appearance. The Modocs being an extremely cleanly race. In most of the wards and tents they were engaged in making hats that serve not only as a covering, but as drinking vessels. The majority of the men amuse themselves by making bows and quivers, the occupation proving remunerative

In Scar faced Charley's tent half a dozen squaws were seated among them

PRINCESS MARY

The belle of the camp and Captain Jack's sister. While in this tent Mrs Lavin and Mrs Walker two white ladies came in and one of them asked in a laughing manner for Captain Jack's wife. The tears came into Mary's eyes and in an emphatic manner she said: "Me no like such talk. He dead. He my brother. Hurt me here" placing her hand upon her heart. No amount of petting could get Mary into a good humor ... Jack's favorite wife was in camp but not visible. The reporter caught a glimpse of her through the trees and saw that her face was painted black ... badge of mourning

THEY DON'T DANCE

The Modocs appear to be very sensitive and when asked to dance deny doing so, saying that they ... many friends lately

The Princess ... a white man from whom she separated ... and ... lately was living with Miller Charley when she ... ... him ... the ... ... rivals ... ... conflict

There are four ... women in the camp all of them claiming ... over 100 years ... ...

Man ... camp ... of Canby. Me know man ... and then relapsed into silence. He claims that the tribe were removed from a perfect paradise on Tule Lake to a barren country and a love of home brought them back and prevented their leaving without a fight. When the war began there were sixty five warriors in the tribe and during all the fighting, they had sixty ... children with them ... Jack ... in the ... statement an idea of the desperation with which they fought can be gleaned. He ... numbers ... ... told thirty nine warriors fifty two women and the remainder children

CAPTAIN JACK'S FAITHFUL FOLLOWERS

Scar faced Charley is the only member of the band who remained faithful to Capt Jack through all. Bogus Charley, Steamboat Frank, Sognostie Jim and Hooka Jim went over to the enemy and acted as scouts until the tribe surrendered. Scar face could not be connected in any way with Canby's murder and none of these five men took part in the massacre at Lost river. Bogus especially was opposed to the massacre and did all he could to prevent it

STEAMBOAT FRANK'S PURSUIT OF KNOWLEDGE

One month ago Steamboat Frank and Schonchin Pete began learning to read by means of a pictorial chart and are progressing very rapidly

While Frank was reading for the benefit of the stranger he asked his wife what Jug spelled

Jug was the reply

Who make it?

Christ

What do with it

Put whisky

What do then?

Raise hell which ended the questioning

Strange to say Long Jim who is very melancholy over the killing of his papoose by a ... of her and the loss of his wife laughed at this

HEART BROKEN

So far the Modocs have made very little progress in cultivating their lands having been busily engaged in making fence rails and putting up fences. Their spirit seems to have been broken and the agents have had no trouble with them whatever so far. The members of the tribe obey the chiefs promptly maintain good order do not fall out among themselves and are not jealous of each other. Twenty ... of the youngsters who attend the Quapaw school are boarded by the Government and clothed by the Society of Friends

CURLY HAIRED DOCTOR

Before concluding a word about Curly haired Doctor. His skill as a sleight of hand performer is wonderful and the incident which follows is vouched for by several gentlemen who were visiting the camp at the time. Scar faced Charley had been complaining of pains in his breast and back for a couple of days and Big Medicine was sent for. He came and after getting off a lot of gibberish placed his mouth to the breast of Scar face. He kept it there a few moments and then spat out a full-sized crawfish. The chief was satisfied and claimed to be well immediately afterward

In conclusion it should be said that the agent is confident that the Modocs are disposed to be friendly and that they will prove one of the most industrious tribes in the Territory

THE FARMERS AT WORK

JUNCTION CITY—ITS GROWTH AND PROSPECTS—THE POLITICAL SITUATION ETC

[FROM OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT]

JUNCTION, April 10, 1874

A GOOD TIME FOR FARMERS

The weather continues remarkably fine the farmers are taking full advantage of it in preparing for and putting in the spring wheat. A genial shower fell yesterday evening that will stimulate the growth of the fall wheat and grass as well as prevent the new plowed land from drying too hard before being cultivated. The farmers feel that they have now something worth working for and they are going at it with a will. There never was in the history of the State such progress made in any one year as is now being accomplished in extensive and good plowing, clearing and grubbing the land and improved cultivation. That is the result of the farmers being fairly remunerated for their labor last year that remuneration was caused by the union and cooperation among the farmers through the medium of the Granges and the greatly increased amount of direct shipments to European markets. In an agricultural State like Oregon every one is interested in the prosperity of the farmer. When they are doing well all other interests are benefited, directly or indirectly. That is felt by store keepers in the increased sale of goods and prompt payments by mechanics and tradesmen in having full employment at remunerative wages making agricultural implements house building and general improvements. In all these respects the country is very prosperous. There will be more new and good buildings erected in the Willamette Valley this year than in any one year in the history of the State

A NEEDED REFORM IN FARMING

One of the principal drawbacks to successful farming in Oregon is that the land is overworked and exhausted. When the farmers of the State have learned the advantages of properly feeding and resting the soil as well as working it they will have taken an important lesson in turning their farms to profitable account. At present a large number of them are killing the goose for the golden eggs

FAVORABLE PROSPECTS FOR STOREKEEPERS

While the farmers are turning every hour to advantage on their farms the storemen have a resting time getting in their stocks for the spring trade and preparing to reap their harvest. There is great progress being made in new and improved stores in the towns up the Willamette Valley and in extensive stocks of goods elegantly arranged. These stores are competing successfully with the ... class of stores in Portland both in the quality of the goods the amount sold and for moderate charges. From the appearance of the prices ... it is evident that the proprietors look forward to a good spring trade

JUNCTION CITY

... one of the most successful towns on the line of the Oregon and California railway. Its rise and progress in three years is unusual in Oregon. The numerous warehouses large stores ... and numerous workshops are evidences of great prosperity. The prospect are equally encouraging. At least eight ... for private residence are to be built this spring and summer. Besides a number of ... The town is the center of an extensive and prosperous agricultural district and the merchants and business men of the town are enterprising, liberal and last ... for fair dealing

THE POLITICAL SITUATION

The Independents are pretty sure that they will come out ahead if the State convention on Wednesday put ... in the field and secure ... and Judge ... Kentucky ... the State. If the Independent State Convention have the moral courage ... honest ... and ... as will secure the confidence of the ... the success of the ticket may be ... calculated on ... a single name on the ticket of ... who has ... been bought ... the market ... will ... the party. SOUND SENSE ON INFLATION

EXTRACTS FROM SPEECHES MADE AT A LATE MASS MEETING OF NEW YORK MERCHANTS MARCH 21

'We hear the predicted clamor for more issues of lying promises from the Government presses. If they are sanctioned by Congress, and have the effect which they are intended to have, they will revive speculation they will lead to another collapse of credit, another era of commercial ruin and utter stagnation of trade. This is simply repeating the lessons of history. If this be not so the annals of the world are a fable and experience a cheat. —William Cullen Bryant

I say when we recall the language of wise and prudent statesmen in those dark days of civil war and contrast it with what is now so openly said in favor of inflation of increased issues of paper money we discern the great ness of the change a few years have wrought. It is significant of this change that what was then almost universally regarded as an evil has come to be considered by many as a great good and what Mr Sumner styled the 'medicine of the constitution' is used as the daily bread of the people. The antidote of the war has become the bane of our peaceful life. —A A Low at the Cooper Institute Meeting

Let those who are only weak remember the fate of the recreant men from the North who voted for the Missouri Compromise, let them remember how they passed suddenly into infamy or obscurity. An increase of so-called paper money by our Government at this time with the understanding that it is not to be redeemed with coin when duly demanded would produce alarm and consternation imperil the entire credit system throughout the land and cause all prudent men to make future contracts only in gold at the present standard of weight and fineness would be injurious and humiliating to the Government itself. THE TERRITORIES

Four men killed fifteen elk one day in Chehalis county W T recently

At a recent meeting of Olympia Grange at Olympia twenty seven new candidates were initiated

The Territorial election in Washington Territory does not take place until the first Monday in November next

It is now stated that the railroad directors party will leave San Francisco for Tacoma on about the 18th of April.

Mr C A Swift of San Juan county W T, writes that that county will clip this season thirty thousand pounds of wool of fair quality

D B Ward teacher on the Skokomish Reservation for the past three years has given place to Mr Pierce, late blacksmith on the same reservation

The District Court at Olympia on Wednesday last week sentenced N. Nunemaker to one day's imprisonment and $100 fine for selling liquor to Indians

Mr H M Knapp Master of Mill Plain Grange of P of H has been appointed Deputy for Clarke county W T to whom all applications for the organization of subordinate Granges should be addressed

A few of the farmers in Puyallup Valley W T are raising small bands of sheep which are looking very well and seem to thrive better on the bottom land than the owners had anticipated and wool and mutton will here after be the principal articles of production

The most sanguine miner in Bingham Utah predicts the mines in that district will turn out more ore this season than the whole territory did last year. As Utah surpassed Colorado and stood next to California it is fair to presume the Territory will eclipse California and rank second to Nevada

The following entries made and filed in the Land Office in Vancouver during the quarter year ending March 31, 1874. Original homestead entries 1 300 final homestead entries 1 270 lands sold 160 located with A C scrip 160 donation certificates 160 declaratory statements filed 840 total, 2 9?0 acres

On Thursday, of last week a committee of three ladies consisting of Mrs, J H Milroy Mrs J J Gilbert and Mrs M L Hartcock, visited the various saloons in Olympia with a petition requesting the proprietors to close their houses on Sunday. They were politely received by the saloon proprietors but their request was firmly refused

The Patrons will hold a council in Tacoma Hall Olympia April 18 1874 at noon. Delegates from all Granges in this region will be in attendance and important business matters will be considered. Trade—the purchase of all goods consumed in farming, and the sale of all the productions of the farm cattle, and all kinds of stock grain wool fruit &c, opening new roads and improving old ones taxes on railroads and other public property. Proposals from all parties interested are invited, and will be received until April 17 1874. They must be in by that time or they will be too late to receive consideration

On Friday of last week Mr. John Chambers killed a monster cougar in the vicinity of Tenalcut Prairie W T. The animal measured eight feet, and was evidently a very old fellow, having been in some bad scrape years ago as a Henry rifle bullet was found in his neck, flattened, and completely calloused over. He had killed sixteen sheep which were found and probably others, before chase was given him by Messrs John and Andrew Chambers, eleven of the sheep being killed in one night. He was hunted three days before being found, and when shot came near killing a valuable dog—an old cougar hunter—belonging to Mr Chambers

A letter from Puyallup Valley W T to the Transcript says the farmers are all very busy putting in their spring crops, consisting this season, mostly of hops. The successful lucrative results from the crops of the last season, together with their productiveness, has satisfied them that it is the most profitable, as well as being the best adapted to the soil, climate, etc of this portion of the Territory of any crop that can be raised here. To illustrate one man showed me a piece of ground which, last year, netted the neat little sum of $230 to the acre, and that, too, after giving half for drying and packing, he not having a drying house of his own yet. I find that one hundred and thirty five acres of new ground are being put in this spring, the most of this amount being already planted; this has made a considerable demand for hop roots thus making quite a little revenue to the older planters who have supplied the want, Mr Meeker alone having sold $800 worth and this may be termed a clear gain, as most of them would be thrown away if not sold. It has been estimated that this year's crop will be the means of bringing into the valley about $40 000 this fall. But let the farmers not expect too much for the hop market, as a general rule is very fluctuating and the price may be up now to the highest while in a short time it may be down to the lowest

THE DISTRICT TICKET

For Judge P D SHATTUCK for District Attorney H Y THOMPSON

The Independent District Convention which met in this city last Saturday has placed before the voters of the District candidates for Judge and District Attorney who cannot fail to meet with universal favor

Hon L D Shattuck is so well known throughout the District that any introduction at our hands would be superfluous For some years he has acted with the Democratic party, and was one of the candidates of that party for Elector at the last Presidential election He is not a strong partisan, however, nor a politician in the low sense in which that term is commonly used He possesses none of that peculiar sort of statesmanship which exhibits itself to the best advantage in the manipulation of ward meetings and party primaries And as to integrity, no breath of suspicion ever tarnished his name We preferred the nomination of Hon W W Thayer, but our support of Judge Shattuck is not merely an unwilling submission to the will of the majority, but a cheerful acquiescence in a nomination that is unexceptionable That Hon E D Shattuck will be the next Judge of this District is beyond peradventure.

Mr H Y Thompson, the nominee for District Attorney, is not so well known outside of Portland as Judge Shattuck, though wherever he is known his acquaintance is to his advantage. He is a fine lawyer and a conscientious gentleman, and will make an efficient Prosecuting Attorney In politics, Mr Thompson is a true Republican, and is, therefore, thoroughly opposed to all manner of Hippleism

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE?

We should like very much to define the difference between Republican principles and Democratic principles, as laid down in the authoritative declarations of the two organizations, but it is impossible to discover in what that difference consists except on the single point of free trade which the Democrats declare to be one of their "time honored principles," while the Republicans say nothing at all about it We suppose it is proper to conclude from the silence of the Republican Convention that the party has not embraced any of the free-trade heresies, which the Democrats adopt in their conventions but ignore in their newspapers and public discussions Through all the immense strain to which the Republican party has been subjected by the corrupt practices of those who have controlled its patronage and dictated its policy, it has never given up its sound theory on the tariff question nor permitted itself to be deceived into the adoption of any of the wildcat plans which visionaries are apt to propose for the raising of revenue without duties on imports

But, with this exception, the two parties are essentially the same in all their essential principles in Oregon, and even upon this single point of difference, the Democracy of other States disagree with the Democracy If some of the newspapers and stump orators who are so extremely exercised over the question of Democrat and Republican, will just favor the public with a succinct and accurate statement of the great issues between the parties, over which they declaim so eloquently and wax so red in the face, they will place a great many people under lasting obligations. In the absence of any such elucidation of the points of difference as can be comprehended by the average voter, it is natural to assume that the real issue is as to who shall have the offices and enjoy the emoluments thereof We suspect that is just what is the matter

BE ON THE SAFE SIDE

For some days past a petition has been in circulation asking the Common Council to extend for thirty days the time for the payment of city taxes, and we are informed that an impression has been created that such extension will certainly be made Tax-payers would do well not to rely upon this impression It is considered very doubtful as a matter of law whether the Council has power to extend the time, as the language of the charter does not seem to warrant the exercise of such a power The fact that it was once done does not prove that it was, or can be lawfully done And this question is further complicated by the fact that the tax is declared delinquent by the Charter on the same day of the next Council meeting, so that the tax is delinquent by operation of law before an ordinance to extend the time can possibly pass We have reason to believe the Committee on Ways and Means who naturally have under consideration this subject, could not unite in a report favoring the attempt to extend the time

This is a matter to which taxpayers should pay particular attention The taxes will be delinquent next Wednesday, and five per cent will be added after that date, unless an extension should be granted, to do which it is not certain the Council possesses either the intention or the power. The only sure way to save the five per cent is to pay up before Wednesday evening

Our sole object in referring to this matter is to prevent taxpayers from relying on an impression that may add five per cent to their taxes

THEY DON'T ENDORSE

Did you notice what the Ring Convention said about the Federal Administration? It said not a word What has the President done that this little sore headed Oregon ring calling itself the Republican party refuse to endorse his administration? It is the custom of the State Conventions of the party in power to endorse the Administration, if it is not considered in the highest degree dangerous to the success of the ticket to do so But here is this Ring Convention ignoring the custom, and that too when the Administration has been attacked by the opposition. Is this singular omission to be accounted for on the ground that it was deemed that an endorsement of the Administration would imperil the ticket? We trust not It must be a very unpopular Administration indeed, whose endorsement would imperil a ticket of Holladay Hippleites before the people of Oregon We hope we are correct in attributing the refusal of the ring convention to speak a good word for the President, to a feeling of resentment toward Grant for nominating Wait an outspoken Independent, for Chief Justice of the United States

If anybody thinks the Republican Convention had no occasion for resolving against the manipulations of State politics by Federal officials let such be undeceived The Statesman gives a partial list of the Federal officers who were present at that Convention plying their avocation It mentions Ben Simpson Surveyor General H W Scott Collector of Customs at Portland W D Hare Collector of Customs at Astoria O B Gibson Collector of Internal Revenue Rufus Mallory U S District Attorney Geo L Cole Postmaster at Portland (but of course he was not having much to say as he is a Democrat) M P Berry Collector of Customs at Alaska T B Rickey Postmaster at Salem How many more were there we are not definitely advised

The Independents of Grant county had a grand ratification meeting in the evening of the day of the Convention at which quite a number of speeches were made The principal orators were Col Geo B Currey and Major Magoon Judge Whitten was loudly called for, but he had left the house and the audience were denied the pleasure of hearing him The Judge is understood to be heartily in favor of a thorough reform in the administration of public affairs so as to reduce the burdens of government without reducing its efficiency His views on political questions are generally sound

The delegates from Clackamas county to the Independent State Convention are C P Church N Buck L D C Latourette W Winston, W A Starkweather Maxwell Ramsby and —— Frost A better delegation never went from Clackamas to any State Convention, and Clackamas is always well represented.

The Albany Register sums up the Republican State ticket and its prospects as follows "The ticket as a whole is a fair one much better in point of talent and honesty we think than the Democratic Should the Tax payers endorse any portion of the ticket, that portion will be elected

The Grant County Independent Convention passed a resolution declaring the compensation of the Clerk for services done for the county should not exceed $1 250 per year demanding a reduction of the Judge's salary from $800 to $600, and the Treasurer's from $600 to $400

We observed that Dave Powell sneaked into the hall where the Independent District Convention was held last Saturday For a wonder we have not heard of any delegate's pockets being picked

BAD STATE OF AFFAIRS —The old Empire State has been struggling with corruption in political affairs for as long a time as our Governor Sometimes the people have had the upper hand, and again the thieves have been in the ascendency All is not yet serene as will appear by the following from the Times of March 20th

From this time forward there will be a good deal of money sent on to Albany for the purpose of greasing the wheels of legislation There is the Erie Classification bill which Senator Ganson is anxious to push through in behalf of that unhappy company George Law's ferry interests require looking after but "skilled talent" is regularly retained in their behalf There are street railroads without number which either want bills passed or bills modified The Riverside avenue job is also good for plunder and the Commissioner of Public Works thinks it worth while to press that scheme in person It is fast becoming a question not how much good the Legislature will accomplish for the people, but how much harm it can be restrained from doing before it is induced to adjourn Still, the Legislature this year has thus far behaved very well—it is the future that we dread Will money sweep everything before it? If it does the public will soon find it out and the members who take bribes will discover that their fate is sealed And we trust that in any case the Governor may be depended on to veto manifestly corrupt and mischievous measures

THE SLAYER OF GENERAL E D BAKER —The friends of Colonel Erasmus H Burt of Mississippi claim that he killed Gen Baker and various Mississippians insist that while Congress is ordering a statue of heroic size of Baker somebody should do something to honor the grave of Burt. We judge that there is a remote suspicion or hope, somewhere around that the cause is not lost after all. However the story runs as follows

At Ball's Bluff or as the Confederates call it Leesburg Burt led the eighteenth Mississippi Hastily forming his lines on the Federal front he discovered that the enemy had also advanced and that groups of field officers belonging to both armies were almost within an arm's length of each other Burt disengaged his pistol and fired at an officer whom he supposed to be of high rank It was Baker and he was killed by the shot The fire was returned by Baker's party and Burt fell surviving but a few days

EDITOR OREGONIAN

Dear Sir—A man by the name of Oliver Dennie the unsophisticated and dilapidated Photographer made statements recently in the Methodist Church that he saw Mr Walter Moffett give his young children intoxicating liquors and actually forced it down their throats. I take this occasion to pronounce said statement a most base and unmitigated falsehood I am ready to make oath that I took to the children at the time spoken of a glass of pure sweet cider and there are several creditable witnesses who were present at the time and who will confirm my statement

Inasmuch as Dennie's statement has obtained notoriety throughout the city I deem it but justice that the denial should be as public as has been the accusation WALTER MOFFETT

RATIFICATION "BLOW-OUT"

GRAND (?) POLITICAL DEMONSTRATION AT THE COURT HOUSE ON SATURDAY EVENING—INTENSE ENTHUSIASM (?)

On Saturday morning the announcement was made that a grand ratification meeting was to be held at the Court House on the evening of that day This meeting as the name implies was for the ostensible purpose of ratifying the proceedings of the late Republican State Convention Flaming hand bills were circulated during Saturday forenoon and the meeting extensively advertised About 7 o clock P M the Portland Band began to discourse lively airs in front of the American Exchange Hotel Attracted by the music a considerable crowd assembled Soon after, the band started for the Court House, playing on the way We observed that but very few persons followed the music off up the streets Sky rockets and bonfires are generally used as auxiliaries (along with the dulcet crash of brass instruments) to awaken a decent spirit of enthusiasm in the breasts of the populace on such occasions But the fires of patriotism were slumbering very low in the hearts of the little band No bonfires glared and flashed in front of the Court House no fiery flames darted to and fro devouring and licking up the proverbial tar barrels and sending off huge volumes of black smoke no rockets shot athwart the sky and lighted up with a momentary gleam the dull, leaden canopy and sank in gloom and darkness Nothing of this kind was seen which could lend eclat to the occasion, or quicken the fires of enthoosiasm

Arriving in front of the Court House the band gave the corporal squad including a few members of the Custom House and representatives of the hoodlum element who had followed the benefit of a couple of airs They all then adjourned to the audience room above where were found about two dozen persons in waiting But the noise of the music attracted public attention and soon people began to come in and within the next fifteen minutes filled the large court room about two thirds full Among the audience we observed several ladies With the exception of the baker's dozen of wire-pullers and political manipulators and those few who are dependent on the good will and favor of the ring there were few who came from any motive other than mere curiosity More than one-half present showed neither sympathy nor interest in the meeting

At the hour designated when the "troubles" were to commence Mr Dan J Malarkey Gauger and Weigher of Customs, arose and called the meeting to order Of course Daniel delivered that same little flourish of rhetoric—with a few incidental variations just to suit the occasion—which your reporter heard more than three years ago It was the same speech We can vouch for the accuracy of those gems of rhetoric Roll up our usual majority ;Old Multnomah to the front Stand by the colors rally under the old banner; the Republican party is not dead the party is firm and united, every man on the ticket will be elected etc etc What Daniel stated in addition viz the objects of the meeting "sore heads so-called Independents, political dead beats demagogues etc and also offering an apology for the absence of Mr R Williams the nominee for Congress, which he said was in consequence of the death of a near relative were the variations from the regular speech, interpolated simply to suit time, place and circumstance, and we give him the benefit of the same

Daniel's peroration having ended he introduced Mr J H Woodward the first speaker of the evening and then quietly subsided. Mr Woodward's remarks enjoyed one great beauty—brevity He spoke scarcely five minutes during which time he said nothing worthy of publication We do not intend by this remark to reflect on the abilities of that gentleman in the least but he appeared so hampered and embarassed by the surroundings that he did not make a single argument and seemed well satisfied when he came to the point where it was eminently in order to sit down Mr Woodward must have been taken unawares and unprepared

Hon J N Dolph was the next speaker A ... idea cannot be imparted the reader than ... saying it was one of that gentleman's characteristic efforts and that its delivery required about twenty five minutes

Capt N B Humphrey, of Linn county, was next introduced, and spoke about ten minutes. His speech was very discursive It mainly consisted of eulogizing the ticket put forth by the State Convention and ended by quoting the old saying that every man on it would inevitably be elected next June

When Mr Humphrey took his seat, Mr Dolph arose and proposed three cheers for the ticket Three feeble shouts shook the welkin and then the crowd filed out unceremoniously Thus commenced and terminated the aforesaid ratification blow out

In all truth and candor it must be characterized as a huge fiasco in all points except the crowd which was very respectable in numbers though very far from enthusiastic Never have we seen a meeting so largely attended which resulted in such a sublime fizzle Neither Mr Williams nominee for Congress W C Johnson nominee for District Judge C M Foster nominee for Secretary of State Rufus Mallory nor J C Moreland nominee for District Attorney—all advertised—were present The names of these gentlemen were printed in bold characters on the posters and it was confidently anticipated that they would be present but for some reason not ... was forthcoming when called Even the ... Caples who was never before known to allow an opportunity to pass by unimproved when ... did not come to the front with his wonted alacrity So much for the opening gun of the campaign

SUICIDE AT VANCOUVER.

In the issue of last Saturday we adverted to the reported suicide of Mr Brown of Vancouver Absence of any particulars prevented more than a mere allusion at the time The report it seems was correct, as will appear from the following particulars taken from the Vancouver Register

Our town was thrown into considerable excitement this Friday morning as the news spread along the streets that James H L Brown had committed suicide at the Vancouver House We immediately repaired to the scene and a ghastly sight met our gaze On the floor of a small bedroom in the upper story of the building lay the dead body of the victim the blood still oozing from his lips while the floor was covered with great pools of clotted blood into which several of the pushing crowd had stepped and then tracked it along the hall and stairway for dogs to lick up Upon inquiry we learn that James H I Brown was a man about forty years of age he came to this county near two years ago and engaged in the business of shipping hoop poles consigned to his brother in San Francisco For the past two or three months he has been observed to act strangely, frequently showing marked signs of approaching insanity Recently he returned from the country residence of Judge Holmes with whom he had contracted for a large lot of hoop-poles and went to the Vancouver Hotel to stay all night Nothing unusual was noticed in his conduct and it is supposed that he retired to bed at a reasonably early hour Shortly after five o'clock this morning the report of a pistol shot was heard in his room and upon being entered by parties in the house the prostrate form of the man was found lying with his face downward upon the floor, apparently having fallen forward on receiving the shot A navy revolver was held in the right hand with the thumb resting upon the trigger He had evidently just got out of bed took the revolver, placed the muzzle just forward of the right ear and a little below the bone of the jaw and fired the pistol by the aid of the thumb the ball passing upward in the brain causing death almost instantly and without a struggle

Coroner John Deer was immediately sent for who proceeded to summons a jury and after examining the body rendered a verdict in accordance with the above stated facts Nothing was found among his papers or effects to indicate why he had taken the fatal step and no word was left to his friends or relatives in explanation His remains will be suitably coffined and interred by friends of which he had many both in the city and country

SYMPATHY FOR THE CRUSADERS

VANCOUVER April 10 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

On hearing of the arrest of the ladies in Portland who were engaged in the crusade against liquor dealers Lincoln Lodge No 1 I O G I appointed a committee to draft a resolution for publication in a number of papers expressing their sympathy for and endorsing the movement of the crusade against the liquor traffic The following resolution was drawn by said committee viz

Resolved That we are ever ready to encourage by our sympathies and our most earnest prayers all those ladies who have joined the crusade or may join hereafter to put down the unholy traffic in spirituous liquors May God hear their prayers and give them strength to continue their mission of mercy and love until vice and intemperance shall cease and peace sobriety and temperance shall be enshrined on the altar of every heart and Hallelujah on all our banners Amen

SOME CURIOUS INDIAN EXPENDITURES —Some of these items in the Government ledger devoted to Indian expenditures are decidedly curious If the noble red men do not advertise much themselves, they are the cause of a good deal of expensive advertising in favored organs by others We wish we could believe that the item "Soap for Indian service $6 154" indicated an improvement in their personal habits it would also be interesting to know whether those 5 000 bottles of "sanitary specific" purchased for them last July worked like a charm and whether the $3 169 worth of but her knives were applied to normal uses and how the $24 161 worth of red flannel shirts fitted and whether the $30 145 worth of tobacco furnished by I McVeagh & Co was of good quality and exactly why Mr A H Wilder's $68 200 item for beef on the hoof was whisked by so quietly that the Indian Commissioners didn't get a peep at it Granville M Dodge ex Congressman and ex General the mysterious disappearance of the Credit Mobilier investigation appears in these accounts as having pocketed $412,991 on contracts in a little more than half a year's time Has the General found his price at last? During the late unpleasantness or very soon after its close he was stationed in a Southern State One day Mr Stanton got a letter from him asking to be relieved and assigned to duty elsewhere Delaying to answer it he received a second and more urgent one He then wrote back that he was quite satisfied to have the General stay where he was and couldn't think of making a change unless there were good and sufficient reasons for it The General thereupon explained He had been offered a large sum—$225 000 if we remember rightly—to turn rascal The —d thieves have got so close to my price he said in substance that I think it would be safer to move me We tell the tale as it was told to us —Springfield (Mass) Republican

BEECHER ON TIMID PREACHER —Beecher speaking of a class of ministers who are opposed to making personal appeals to men says I think I see one of these modern ministerial eunuchs going down and sitting on the banks of a stream where trout are and saying O trout here am I Here is my basket Please come forth in the exercise of your trout nature and get into it He then goes away and says The meadow was pleasant the stream was pearly but the trout signified their intention not to come out and I respected their individuality Be in earnest or else get out of the pulpit

Now we know all about it The Siamese Twins were Xiphopagus of the class of Terata anacatadidymi and may be called, for short Omphalopagus Xiphodidymus Popular apostrophe to the Philadelphia faculty in chorus We thank thee Jew for teaching us that word

HACK, HACK! COUGH, COUGH!

Cough is a symptom by which various diseased conditions of the throat bronchial tubes and lungs manifest themselves But whether it arises from the irritation produced in the throat and larynx by taking cold from an attack of Bronchitis from incipient Consumption or from various other causes nothing will allay it more speedily nor cure it more permanently than Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery It does not matter whether it be a recent attack or a lingering cough the Discovery is in either case equally well adapted for its relief and permanent cure In fact it will cure a cough in one half the time necessary to cure it with any other medicine and it does it not by drying it up but by removing the cause subduing the irritation and healing the affected parts, No time should be lost in commencing the use of a proper medicine for the relief of a Cough for unless this course is pursued serious and dangerous disease of the lungs is liable to result

BUFFALO N Y Dec 13 1870

Dr PIERCE—For the past six months I have used your Golden Medical Discovery in my practice and in that time I have tested its merits in severe coughs both acute and chronic, in chronic disease of the throat severe cases of bronchitis general derangement of the system constipated condition of the bowels and wherever a thorough alterative has been indicated In all cases I have found it to act gently yet thoroughly and effectually in removing the various diseased conditions and bringing about a healthy action throughout the system

TO CHARLES SUMNER

BY JOHN G WHITTIER

If I have seem [illegible] more prompt to censure wrong
That praise the right [illegible] seldom to thine ear
My voice hath mingled with the exultant cheer
[illegible] Northern winds
If I have failed [illegible] the fickle throng
In wide eyed [illegible] [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible] calming power with Canning's grace
[illegible]
[illegible] for whom the nine fold Muses sang
[illegible] twined arms a giant athlete sprang
Barbing the arrows of his native tongue
With the spent shafts Latona's archer flung
To smite the Python of our land [illegible] time
Fell as the [illegible] born of [illegible]
Like the [illegible] bard who in Castalian springs
Tempered the steel that clove the crest of king
And on the shrine of England's freedom laid
The gifts of Cumæ and [illegible] shade—
Small need hast thou of words of praise from me
Thou knowest my heart dear friend, and well canst guess
That even though silent I have not the less
Rejoiced to see thy actual life agree
With the large future which I shaped for thee
When years ago beside the summer sea
White in the moon we saw the long waves fall
Baffled and broken from the rocky wall
That to the menace of the brawling flood
Opposed alone its massive quietude
Calm as a Fate with not a leaf nor vine
Nor such spray trembling in the still moonshine
Crowning [illegible] like God's peace [illegible]
That night scene by the sea prophetical—
(For Nature speaks in symbols and in signs
And [illegible] pictures human fate [illegible]
[illegible] rock wherefrom we saw the billows sink
In murmuring rout uprising clear and tall
In the white light of Heaven the type of one
Who momentarily by Error's [illegible] assailed
Stands strong as Truth in greaves of granite mail [illegible]
And tranquil fronted listening over all
The tumult hears the angel say "All done"

THE ANGLO FRENCH TUNNEL

Writing from Paris under date of Feb 19th, the correspondent of the London Standard says

"The Chamber reassembles to-day, and we are told that 'serious business may be expected' but before we plunge into the vortex of politics your readers may perhaps not be sorry to ascertain something further about an undertaking which for very obvious reasons is deeply interesting to all Englishmen and when completed will certainly rank as one of the scientific wonders of this wonderful age I allude of course to the projected tunnel between South Foreland and Cape Grisnez I have already informed you that a company had been formed, and that the Council of State had sanctioned a bill declaring the scheme a projet d'utilite publique" This is not a mere empty compliment, when a scheme is declared d'utilite publique it is empowered to purchase by means of expropriation all such lands as it stands in need of This bill has yet to be passed by the Assembly but the assent of that body is so much a mere matter of course that the preliminary drawings and surveys are being actively proceeded with, and it may be anticipated that before long the work will pass from the pen and ink and paper to the pickaxe and shovel stage The idea of a tunnel under the sea naturally strikes the popular imagination, and most people fancy that to pass under the channel requires to burrow in the bowels of the earth to depths hitherto unknown As regards the channel this is a mistake For instance, there will be a far smaller distance between the roof of the submarine tunnel and the surface of the water than there is between the roof of the sub-Alpine tunnel and the summit of Mount Cenis Most Englishmen know that the Straits of Dover are all the more unpleasantly rough because they are so shallow But Frenchmen, and especially Parisians, are very much at sea about the sea, and fancy all manner of unpleasant things about it In one of M Michelet's books, La Mer he describes himself looking from the shore at the Atlantic in a gale, and, getting frightened into a fever at the billows, that looked as if they wanted to swallow him up. He winds up the passage by thus addressing the sea, Monstre! que me veux tu?" Well, most of his countrymen agree with M Michelet in this respect They are afraid of the sea, and dislike it; and the idea of traveling at express rate under that mass of surging seething water, seems something appalling to our neighbors A clever writer in one of the French papers endeavors to reassure his countrymen in terms which show how Frenchmen's imaginations are apt to run away with them

"That one word 'sea' awakens so invincibly in our minds the notions of unfathomable caverns—dark abysses incommensurable obstacles—that we are prone to set down as chimerical any attempt for a passage under the sea This, however, is folly Why if the towers of Notre Dame were dragged across the Straits of Dover, in their very deepest part, they would be nearly forty feet above high water mark"

The idea of introducing the towers of Notre Dame into the middle of the Channel by way of proving that a tunnel is not impracticable seems odd, but, as that is the kind of argument to convince Frenchmen, we must admire its ingenuity, and, at all events, agree with our French confrere when he lays down that there is nothing in the depth of the Channel to render impracticable the great design to establish a submarine isthmus between England and France.

It is hardly necessary to say that the tunnel must be excavated greatly below the bottom of the sea, so that its roof should be of such thickness as to be thoroughly impervious to water There is indeed something rather awful in the idea that millions upon millions of tons of water will be weighing on the subterranean gallery But in point of fact it is an idea and nothing more The pressure of water on the tunnel will be absolutely nil, and the only pressure that will have to be provided against will be the pressure of the superincumbent earth Moreover, it must not be forgotten that there are mines in England whose works extend for two miles under the sea, and in one of the Cornish mines the crust of earth between the workings and the water is so thin that the men can distinctly hear the rumbling of the shingle as it is rolled backward and forward by the waves The roof of the Anglo-French tunnel however will be thick enough to exclude all oceanic noises upwards of 180 feet of chalk and clay will divide the tunnel from the water. In addition it is hardly necessary to say that it will be carefully bricked up in short an earthquake itself could hardly impair its safety

It had been originally intended to construct two enormous shafts close to the shore through which passengers and goods would have had to be let down, shipped on board the submarine train, and then hoisted up again, when they had been conveyed across This plan has now been abandoned It has been determined to prolong the tunnel far enough inland on both sides of the channel so as to enable the journey to be effected without a break A gentle incline will gradually lead the train from the Continent to the submarine portion of the permanent way an equally gentle ascent will land it on the shores of Britain At some future time I shall let you know the precise spot at which the tunnel is to be commenced But I am assured that all the practical difficulties in the execution of this astounding design may be considered as good as overcome The greatest of all—ventilation—has I am told been successfully dealt with, and the execution of the tunnel now remains merely a matter of L s d —a question which is certainly not insurmountable, and which will be satisfactorily solved when capitalists become convinced that the undertaking will pay

An Ohio paper gives the details of what is called a lamentable accident that occurred in Pike township, Fulton county that State a few days ago The circumstances are substantially as follows William Mullen Jr who lives within a short distance of Winameg [illegible] been in the habit of going in the evening for his mail and had, on more than one occasion been annoyed by a certain dog howling near his house and on leaving the house Saturday night he made the remark in the presence of a young man by the name of Bird B Flemming who was living there that he was going to the store, and if that dog made that noise again he was going to shoot him The young man got in advance of Mullen some way and for the purpose of scaring him imitated a dog when Mullen drew his revolver and fired killing the boy almost instantly

David Kalakua the new King of Hawaii is about forty years of age, and has held a seat in the House of Nobles and been Chamberlain to Kamehameha V He is a nativist and opposed to foreign control His grandfather was hanged for poisoning his wife

The Central Pacific has lost the bulk of the overland tea trade, the Pacific Mail Steamship Company having broken its alliance and shipping teas by its own steamers by way of Panama.

Exchange on San Francisco at [illegible] of 1 per cent premium

Wheat in Liverpool [illegible] advices from San Francisco [illegible] average California and [illegible] club

[illegible] one of the leading commercial papers in America [illegible]

In spite of the teachings of history of the irrevocable laws of finance of the results which has forced themselves upon the attention of the country we are to have an inflation of the currency to that extent The South and West have forced it upon us and we shall be much mistaken if in the long run the [illegible] do not have occasion to regret their [illegible] It had been hoped that the [illegible] protests from the best merchants, manufacturers and [illegible] of the country would have the effect to induce a wiser Congressional policy but that deliberative body has seen fit to legislate after its own fashion regardless of political economy and common sense and if [illegible] there will be no difficulty in fixing the responsibility The action of Congress in this matter meets with universal condemnation [illegible]

The regular 1½ per cent monthly dividend of the National Gold Bank and Trust Company of San Francisco was paid on the 10th A peculiar feature of this [illegible] the fact that it completes the return of 100 per cent profit to the original stockholder The Bank has paid fifteen dividends of 1 per cent each and thirty six dividends of 1½ per cent each also a stock dividend of 40 per cent which was paid May 1 18[illegible] All this has been done on the average use and employment of the capital for sixty two months In addition the Bank reports a round surplus of $20 000 above capital

Sugar Sales.

A large auction sale of sugars took place in San Francisco on Monday of last week The terms of the sale were cash on delivery The first lot offered consisted of 25 bbls circle A crushed The quantity put up was 25 bbls with the privilege of the lot It was started at 8½c and finally knocked down to an Oregon house at [illegible] This was regarded as a sort of key note to the sale but was really the highest price paid and considerably higher than the regular trade schedule adopted by one of the other refineries on the 1st inst The next line offered consisted of 500 half barrels of the same grade This ought to have brought ½c more than the barrels but actually sold for ½c less The lot was taken by three houses The lots of Granulated Sugar sold at 9 [illegible]c for wet and 9[illegible]c for dry and the Golden C brought 8½c The above lots were offered by the San Francisco and Pacific Sugar Refinery which had resumed work a little over a week before and consisted of their entire product The sale was construed as a retaliation on the conduct of the California Refinery in reducing their rates on the 1st instant 1½c on Whites and 1c on Yellows Immediately following the sale the proprietors of the California Refinery made a further reduction of ½c ℔ on all grades The war has actually begun what the end will be is easy to predict In the meantime however consumers will enjoy the privilege of cheap Sugar The refiners are supposed to be wealthy and some of them boast they can make money at 10½c for White Sugar If that be true they must have made considerable money at 12c which has been the price for a long time until recently We notice that shipments of Crushed from New York to San Francisco have been renewed one of the ships which left last week having 200 bbls The price of Crushed in New York is 10½c.

Miscellaneous.

The coal trade between British Columbia and San Francisco has lately developed into a large business The Nanaimo and Wellington mines are now yielding considerable quantities of coal and from eight to twelve vessels are constantly engaged in transporting cargoes to the San Francisco market Two or three years ago there were only two vessels regularly employed in the trade

A Lane county paper says Grain fields throughout the county look splendid Wheat sown in the fall is from six to ten inches high There will be a larger breadth of ground sown to grain in Lane county this season than during previous years."

Messrs. Harding & Farrell of this city have received an order for 500 bushels of potatoes to be sent to Iowa. The occasion of this order is that the potato crop throughout Iowa was destroyed last year by the potato bug and it is an item of no little importance that Oregon furnishes that State with a portion of its this year's seed

The value of Oregon exports clearing at Astoria from March 7 1873 till March 22 1874 for foreign ports was $2 460 613 The number of clearances was 3[illegible]

WASHINGTON COUNTY GENERALLY

HILLSBORO April 11, 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

[illegible] several weeks [illegible] farmers and mechanics have been toiling late and early putting in the spring crop and are getting along finely The people generally are in good spirits hoping to get a remunerative price for their products this fall

The political fever seems to be fully up to the standard and everybody seems to be running a party of their own When the Democrats put out their State ticket nobody could be found that would endorse the whole thing Then comes the county Independents The people are willing to admit that the ticket is a fair one but look for something better The State Republican Convention sends out their very best, which is generally met with up turned noses Whether the Independent District nominees will satisfy the people or not is hard to say The cry of the people for blood must be satisfied by a sacrifice which monopolies Governors and Legislatures [illegible] in the persons of Clerks and Sheriffs [illegible] for their own [illegible] ment is supposed to be in the east final and complete It's a wonder the [illegible] shift it to the shoulders of the [illegible] or as is sometimes the case [illegible] the people demand a punishment

The school meetings [illegible] heels of the convention [illegible] warm affairs in many [illegible] In Hillsboro two of the wealthiest [illegible] took a set to at speech making [illegible] muddled the anti tax side that [illegible] away with them It seems to [illegible] derstood that the Grangers [illegible] better school facilities in all their school districts than heretofore [illegible] most praiseworthy aims of [illegible] speaks louder than words [illegible]

The new school bell for Hillsboro district donated by the citizens and weighing 500 pounds was received [illegible] Thursday and placed in the cupola of the new school building to the satisfaction of all

McDougall, of G H Cross [illegible] in Hillsboro laboring in the interests of [illegible] for three days past with average success The Good Templars organization is up to the [illegible] est state and is doing good work They passed resolutions of encouragement to the Crusaders of Portland [illegible] that something should be done for that city, so that a country man could pass along its streets without the use of pistols and be possessed of policemen to guard him in open day to save him from the ladies The majority of Portland [illegible] favorable to the use of liquors, I suppose from the muteness of the press and [illegible] in considering those Crusaders highly immoral in their efforts

Mr Wm Watson, of Reedville killed two full grown cougars with strychnine last Thursday The night previous something had taken the entrails from the pen where he had dressed a mutton [illegible] dogs, he put out the poison the next night and on going to the place next morning [illegible] of his surprise at finding these two animals not a dozen rods from the house Mr Watson thinks he has [illegible] that have been [illegible] Reedville

Quarterly meeting [illegible] place with Presiding Elder [illegible] and McDougall as preachers The sermons are good and highly appreciated

Hereafter no extension [illegible] granted by a direct act [illegible] determined on [illegible] Patent being in meritorious cases [illegible] act to enable the applicant [illegible] Patent Office [illegible] termination The [illegible] amount [illegible] a great many [illegible] ing monopolies in the [illegible] present from eighty [illegible] hundred bills [illegible] the Committee [illegible] favor of extension [illegible] which heavy sums [illegible] been [illegible]

It is now pretty evident that Congress [illegible] deference to [illegible] of the more glaring evil [illegible] management [illegible] tinues [illegible] Future [illegible] tion on account [illegible] therein [illegible] actual [illegible] longer be possible [illegible] fortunes at the expense [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] an Iowa lecturer [illegible] candidate for Congress [illegible] become a member of [illegible] him to be the equal [illegible] that persons of [illegible] realizing [illegible] all shortcomings

Brother Beecher [illegible] Dr Bacon [illegible] Preachers shoulder [illegible] fear the devil whispered in my [illegible] now that this was a very fine [illegible] for you to do [illegible]
